

2022 Saint Patrick's Day Dogtown

Restricted Parking on March 17 in Dogtown

Anyone who has ever attended the annual Ancient Order of Hibernians Saint Patrick's Day Parade in Dogtown on March 17 can tell you that parking can be a problem. That is because the annual event, and the festival that follows, is held in one of St. Louis oldest Irish neighborhoods. As in most city neighborhoods, parking on the street can be limited.

But on March 17, the number of parade and festival attendees, coupled with limited parking can become problematic. Also, being a neighborhood much of the available parking is occupied by local residents.

To make things go as smooth as possible the organizers of the Dogtown Irish Festival is publicizing the following information to let all parade and festival attendees know in advance the issues they can expect on March 17 in the Dogtown neighborhood.

“NO PARKING AREAS”

“No Parking” areas will be designated along the parade route that will be enforced promptly at 6:00 AM on the morning of the 17th. The parade route will be locked down to public traffic at 6:00 AM. All attending are strongly advised to avoid driving near the parade route after 6:00 AM due to traffic congestion. When possible, please consider carpooling, using a cab, or arranging a drop-off as parking in Dogtown will be extremely limited.

A new safety feature added this year is TAMM AVENUE AND ALL CROSS STREETS ONE

BLOCK IN EACH DIRECTION WILL BE CLOSED BETWEEN 6:00 AM TO 10:00 PM to ensure pedestrian safety.

Many cross streets off Tamm will be designated “NO PARKING” areas.

Parking and traffic along this portion of Tamm will reopen later than in prior years, assist festival organizers in disbanding the event and also allow cleanup of the site before street parking and normal traffic resumes.

To prevent unauthorized vehicles from accessing the parade route and festival area, heavy barricades will be placed on most of the streets intersecting with the parade route along Tamm.

These streets will remain blocked until cleaning is finished and they are reopened. Potentially as late as 10:00PM

When departing the festival area, please be advised that east/west traffic through the festival area will be limited on March 17th. Manchester will remain open throughout the day.

If you are parked to the west of Tamm, please depart the neighborhood heading west toward McCausland or Skinker. If you are parked east of Tamm, please depart heading east toward Hampton.
